Dear colleagues,

I would like to extend a warm welcome to our 10th Annual Portsmouth Advanced Endoscopy Symposium, bringing you updates on the very latest gastrointestinal endoscopic advances. Many thanks for taking time to attend our symposium as I appreciate how challenging it can be in the current environment to peel away from clinical commitments.

We received great feedback on the live endoscopy presented at the last Symposium. This year, the programme has been developed to allow experts in the field to give you an evidence based update followed by a live demonstration of the latest in advanced endoscopy. We have carefully selected the live demonstration case mix and an expert faculty of both national and internationally renowned endoscopists to make this symposium the highlight of the endoscopy calendar. New this year is a hepatobiliary endoscopic demonstration transmitted live directly from Orlando, Florida.

The programme is structured to be dynamic, allowing delegates' time to see some live cases and ask questions in between. We have a stellar faculty chairing the live sessions so please make the most of this opportunity to engage in stimulating discussion.

We also have two breakout sessions planned with a focus on the practical aspects of endoscopy. These sessions have limited slots so please do sign up at the registration desk as soon as you can.

I would like to express my gratitude to all faculty and delegates who have taken time away from their busy schedules to be with us and make this event a success. I would also like to thank our sponsors for their generous support. Please do take the time to visit their stands during the breaks.

The exchange of ideas and thoughts can continue at the course dinner which is being held at the iconic HMS Nelson Wardroom. This will be a great opportunity to relax and informally meet the faculty and other delegates.

I hope you enjoy the symposium and I look forward to welcoming you.

Professor Pradeep Bhandari
